Written and

Once upon a time there* was an elephant called Snow. She lived in a snowland and she really liked to explore things around.

One day when she was playing
next to the pond she

hear strange
sound.

First it was a lovely
singing coming

from up the sky and then
just splash

Splash

splash!

Next day, it was Christmas day, and she was decorating the Christmas tree. It was a tall tree and Snow was really struggling. Suddenly Snow saw something moved in the pond there were two white wings. She thought it is an elephant angel fallen down.

But it was a real angel who took a yellow star from the snow and helped an elephant to finish off the decoration of the christmas tree. Snow was the happiest elephant in the world.
